Cohort facilitation playbook

01 / Understand the task

Session structures, timing templates and the questions that open a room up.

Plan a small learning room around a concrete attempt, not an uninterrupted presentation.

Choose one small, real example to work on. A focused attempt gives you better evidence than a general impression.

Your example: _____

Your audience: _____

Your intended outcome: _____

One constraint: _____

02 / Put a method to work

1. Before the session, send one clear learning goal and a short preparation task.

2. Minutes 0-5: welcome, access needs and what a useful result looks like.

3. Minutes 5-15: demonstrate one method using a worked example.

4. Minutes 15-30: give learners one small independent or paired attempt.

5. Minutes 30-40: invite specific questions and compare two approaches.

6. Minutes 40-45: name the next step and collect one useful feedback prompt.

Working notes: _____

_____

03 / A worked practice scenario

Goal: learners can write one specific critique comment.

Instead of asking "Any questions?", ask "Which decision was hardest to explain?" Give quiet thinking time before inviting responses.

End with an exit note: one thing I tried, one thing I understood, one question I am keeping.

Apply the method to your own example. What changes?

Your first attempt: _____

Your revision: _____

04 / Reflect and keep going

Does every learner have time to attempt the method, and a non-verbal way to contribute?

What is clearer after using this workbook?

_____

What evidence supports that conclusion?

_____

What is the smallest useful next step?

_____

Feedback prompt: "I noticed ____. That helped / made it harder to ____. One thing to try is ____."
